ALILA FORT BISHANGARH IN RAJASTHAN, INDIA

Unlike most of northern India's romantic heritage hotels, Bishangarh began life as an 18th-century hilltop fortress rather than an opulent palace. Situated high atop a granite hill with 360-degree views of the surrounding Rajasthani landscape, it's easy to see why TIME magazine included the hotel in its list of the World's Greatest Places in 2018. The secret of its successful transition was the construction of new wings to house 59 lavish guest suites, two restaurants, a cocktail bar and a state-of-the-art spa that all combine traditional style with contemporary comforts.

The Pavilions Grand villa

THE PAVILIONS HIMALAYAS IN POKHARA, NEPAL

Contemplate the meaning of life as you gaze out at the Annapurna mountain range (home to the 10th highest mountain in the world, no less) from your private terrace. Set against the majestic Himalayas, and on an organic farm, this luxury boutique resort is where nature and traditional Nepalese touches in the décor come together for an uplifting experience, in all senses of the word. With The Pavilions as your base, you can choose to spend your days exploring the area, be it going hiking, bird watching, mountain biking or even learning how to make momos.
